

ANXIETY: INTERRUPT THE DOWNWARD SPIRAL (from Max Lucado)

Anxiety is an out of control thought pattern. It settles over the mind like a severe weather system, spewing thunderclouds and casting lightning bolts. Life feels like an airplane in a tailspin. It feeds on what-ifs and worst-case scenarios.

What if the Coronavirus goes unchecked? The economy crashes? Our nation erupts? I'll lose my health. I could lose my job. I'll lose it all...my livelihood and maybe even my life...

Down. Down. Down. Don't give in to this thought pattern. It's a sinkhole. Don't catastrophize your way into quicksand. Take a deep breath and then...

- 1. Pray about it. At the first hint of an anxious thought, Take the thought captive. Don't tolerate the devil, not even for a second. Lasso the anxious thought with a word of prayer. Lord, there is an intruder at the door! Please take over!
- 2. Identify the culprit. Generalities are not permitted. None of this: "I'm worried." Get specific: Lord, I'm worried about the layoffs at work. Now, that's better. But even more detailed: I'm worried that I will contract the virus. I could lose my health or my job. Will the vaccine work? What if our country is torn apart? Specificity disarms anxiety.
- 3. Take a reality check. Is this a legitimate concern? Or is this a vague, ill-defined, rumor-fed possibility? They say layoffs are inevitable. They say we cannot overcome racial division. Who are they?
- 4. Take an action step. Assuming the concern is legitimate, what can you do? Make a list of one or two steps you can take. Resist the urge to try to solve everything immediately.
- 5. Ask: "Can God solve this?" Is this challenge within his skill set? Is he overwhelmed by this setback? Are the angels pounding on the door of heaven trying to convince him to come out of hiding? Is he resisting? God can't handle this challenge? It is too great? He does not know what to do? God is stumped, stuck, and stalled out? No...I don't think so either. God is never baffled or belittled. Take the problem to him.

Reflect on this verse:

"No weapon formed against you shall prosper, and every tongue which rises against you in judgment you shall condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is from Me, says the Lord" (Isaiah 54:17).

And, pray it through:

Lord,
Thank you that "before a word is on my tongue you, Lord, know it completely" (Psalm 139:4). Thank you that there are no surprises with you. Help me find deep comfort in the fact that you are unshockable and nothing is too great, too terrible, too large, or too heavy for you. Help me see the problems that I face today in light of how big you are. Amen.
